

The Sydney Morning Herald.

No. 8997—VOL. LV.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1867.

PRICE FOURPENCE.

BIRTHS.

In the 11th instant, at her mother-in-law's residence, 150, George-street, Woolloomooloo, the wife of the late Mr. J. A. Clegg, of a daughter.

In the 11th instant, at her residence, Springfield Hotel, Spring-street, Mrs. G. T. Swain, of a daughter. Both died well.

On the 13th instant, the wife of J. J. Moore, bookseller, George-street, of a son.

On the 13th instant, the wife of John Melville, Bay-street, Glebe, of a daughter.

On the 13th instant, at her residence, Salmaire, Mrs. William Melville, widow of the late Mr. Melville, of a son.

On the 13th instant, at her residence, Campsdown, the widow of James McFarlane, late National School teacher, of a son.

On the 13th instant, at her residence, Market-square, Goulburn, Mrs. W. J. Lee, of a son.

On the 16th instant, at Lady Yarrell's terrace, the wife of F. H. Yarrell, Esq., barrister-at-law, of a daughter.

MARRIAGES.

On the 26th December, 1866, by special license, at St. Mary's Church, Paddington, Mr. W. H. D. Duthie, of Pitt-street, master of Shrewsbury, England, to Margaret Niven, widow of Lourens, county Armagh, Ireland.

On the 2nd instant, by special license, the Rev. N. Julian, Goulburn, to Mrs. E. M. Weston, widow of Burwood, to Maxine, eldest daughter of Mr. William Weston, of Weston.

At the residence of Mrs. Vincent, Dorset Farm, near Wragg, Wetherby, Yorkshire, to Maria Louisa Vincent, of

Burwood, by the Rev. Richard Selwyn, Mr. William Riley, of Dewsbury, Yorkshire, to Maria Louisa Vincent.

DEATHS.

On the 2nd November, 1866, at his residence, Bromsgrove, Leicestershire, Edward Eason, Esq., solicitor, father of the Rev. Geoffrey Eason, Sydney, and uncle of Mrs. Westaway, of Paddington.

On the 2nd January, at her residence, Pinfield Nurseries, Highgate, Mrs. Sarah, widow of Robert Morris.

On the 13th February, at his residence, Newton Road, Sydney, William Rutherford, third son of Captain James Rutherford, of Southwark, who died aged 32 years, leaving a wife and small family to mourn their loss.

On the 24th February, at his residence, Glebe, Joseph Chinnery, aged 71 years.

On the 25th instant, at his residence, Wincanton, Henry Morris, Esq., aged 74 years.

At his residence, Edinburgh, and the wife of Captain George Smith, of the Royal Engineers.

On the 28th instant, at Peterham, Mortimer Kent, infant son of Sharf H. and Mary M. Lewis.

On the 2nd instant, at her residence, Cavendish House, George-street, Elizabeth, the beloved wife of Charles Henry May, who died suddenly from heart disease.

On the 2nd instant, at his residence, Gladysville, Paddington, Mr. William Bates, stone-mason, after a long and severe illness, which had been aggravated by the cold weather.

At her residence, the Crown Law Office, Macquarie-street, Margaret, the beloved wife of Mr. John Duthie, aged 71 years.

On the 22nd instant, at Peterham, Mortimer Kent, infant son of Sharf H. and Mary M. Lewis.

On the 27th instant, at her residence, Newington, London, Mrs. Mary Scott, youngest son of Alfred H. Ward.

On the 17th December, at the residence of his daughter, Madame Marie, Durban, South Africa, William Johnson, son of Philip and Anna Johnson, of the Corporation of the City of London, the beloved father of Mr. W. Johnson, Sheriff of England, O'Connell.

SHIP ADVERTISEMENTS.

OVERLAND ROUTE TO ENGLAND.—THE PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY'S Steamship G. R. LONG.

TO MORROW, SUNDAY.

Mr. J. R. Shawson, commander, will be dispatched for GALLER, with her Majesty's mails, freight, species, and cargo, on SUNDAY, the 24th March, 1867, at noon, touching at MELBOURNE and KING GEORGE'S BAY.

Cargo will be received until 6 p.m. on the 21st, and species and parcels until noon of the 22nd.

For particulars regarding freight and passage, with information on all subjects connected with the PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY'S Lines, apply to HENRY MOORE, Agent.

Moor's Wharf, Sydney, 22nd February, 1867.

STEAM TO ENGLAND, via PANAMA, in conjunction with the steamships of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company of London.—The Panama, New Zealand, and Australasian Royal Mail Steamship RAKIA,

TO-MORROW, SUNDAY.

Mr. S. H. Wright, R.N., commander, for PANAMA, via WELLINGTON, N.Z., MONDAY, April 1st, at 3 p.m.

Passengers, gold, specie, and cargo can be forwarded by this route to all parts of South America, the United States, and Canada. At Rio de Janeiro, to all the Continental cities of Europe, and via Southampton, to any part of Great Britain.

GOLD AND SPECIE.

Freight delivered at the port of England.

Mr. J. R. Shawson, commander, will be dispatched for SHILLINGSBY, on SUNDAY.

Intelligent passengers will please note that they are allowed 336 lbs weight first-class, or 168 lbs second-class. All luggage must be delivered at the Company's office twenty-four hours before the departure of the steamer, when it will be taken on board.

All cargo will be paid for as measurement goods.

Every information relative to freight and passage may be obtained at the Company's Office, Grafton Wharf.

H. B. BENNON, General Manager.

QUEENSLAND STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY'S SHIPS.

For ROCKHAMPTON direct.—LADY BOWEN, This Day.

FRIDAY, 24th March, 1867, at 6 p.m.

For MARYBOROUGH, GLADSTONE, and ROCKHAMPTON, without transhipment—QUEENSLAND, This Day, Saturday, 25th instant, at 5 p.m.

Goods are now being received for above ports.

W. WESLAIRTH, Manager.

Q. N. N. Co.'s Office, Sussex-street.

20 acres of land, &c., containing all sorts of trees, gardens, &c., for sale.

Upper Williams, kitchen, bath, &c., Upper Williams.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Four rooms, together with large hall, &c., for rent.

Upper Williams, kitchen, bath, &c., Upper Williams.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

Detached detached for a small sum.

Joseph Kingdon, Q.S.C., commanding.

Apply to Thomas, Pitt-street, &c.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.
GREAT SOUTHERN, WESTERN, AND RICHMOND RAILWAYS.

A Cheap Excursion Train will leave Sydney every SATURDAY, at 1.30 p.m., for Campbelltown, Penrith, and Richmond, and arrive in Sydney on the return journey at 8.15 p.m. For further particulars, see time-tables.

POSTAGE PENNY PER MILE FOR THE DOUBLE JOURNEY.

Minimum fare, one shilling.

Tickets are only available for these trains.

JAMES BYRNE, Commissioner for Railways, Department of Public Works, Railway Branch, Sydney, March 22nd, 1867.

The Treasury, New South Wales, 19th March, 1867.

TERMINALS FOR FINNACE.—No eligible tenders having been received for the supply of the "Carvel built Finance" (required for the new ship "Great Northern" Training ship Vernon), called for by the Treasury, dated 9th instant, further tenders will be received at this Office until noon of Saturday, the 27th instant, from persons specifying the same, under the terms and conditions specified in the notice above referred to.

Further information respecting the Tender may be obtained on application to Captain HENIN, board the Vernon, Cuthbert's Wharf.

GROPPET EAGAR.

Town Clerk's Office, Sydney, 23rd March, 1867.

TO GLAZIERS, PAINTERS, &c.—TENDERS will be received at this Office until 3 o'clock on MONDAY, 1st April, for the painting of the Roof of the George-street Markets with Semi-gloss Paint, and advertising and painting-frame work, &c. in accordance with the specification given.

The Municipal Council will not be bound to accept the lowest or any tender; nor will any Tender be taken into consideration unless accompanied by the names of two responsible persons willing to become Surety to the extent named in the specification for the due fulfillment of the Contract.

CHARLES H. WOOLCOTT, Town Clerk.

No. 67 44 Town Clerk's Office, Sydney, 22nd March, 1867.

TO CONTRACTORS.—TENDERS will be received at this Office until 3 o'clock on MONDAY, 1st April, for the performance of the undermentioned Works, in accordance with the plans and specifications to be seen at the Office of the City Surveyor, viz. —

1. Ballasting and Blinding Roads, between Crown and Riley streets.

2. Paving, Ballasting and Slabbing at Botany.

3. Paving, Ballassing, and Slabbing, St. Mary's Road.

The Municipal Council will not be bound to accept the lowest or any tender; nor will any Tender be taken into consideration unless accompanied by the names of two responsible persons willing to become Surety to the extent named in the specification for the due fulfillment of the Contract.

CHARLES H. WOOLCOTT, Town Clerk.

MUNICIPALITY OF THE OGLEB.—TENDERS are required for Kettling and Guttering a portion of Catherine-street. Particulars may be obtained from the Council Clerk, by whom Tenders will be received until noon on MONDAY, the 25th instant.

By order of the Chairman.

S. PARTIDGE, Council Clerk.

Council Chambers, Glebe Road, March 15th, 1867.

MUNICIPALITY OF WATERLOO.—TENDERS for ASSESSMENT.—No slight tender being received, fresh tenders will be received up to TUESDAY, the 26th instant, at 7 o'clock. Persons to state distinctly the amount required to assess the property, including all tenders at Revision Committee. Persons tendering to provide sufficient evidence.

JAMES MARSH, Acting Clerk.

DANLINGTON MUNICIPALITY.—TENDERS will be received until MONDAY, the 25th instant, at the Council Chamber, for Forming, Ballassing, and Blinding, and laying kerb, gutter, and pipe drains, in Rose and Ivy Lane. Specifications can be seen at the Council Chamber, from 5 till 8 o'clock p.m., Saturdays and Mondays.

By order of the Chairman.

S. PARTIDGE, Council Clerk.

TO BUILDERS.—Tenders will be received until FRIDAY, 29th instant, for the erection and completion of two houses, with basements, offices, &c., at Paddington. Plans and specification with the architect, F. H. REUTS, 134, Pitt-street.

SYNEY SYNAGOGUE, YORK-STREET.—TENDERS for the Supply of PASSOVER BISCUITS for charitable distribution during the ensuing Passover will be received until the 1st of April by the undersigned.

M. DE LISSA, Secreary.

TO EXCAVATORS AND MASONRY.—TENDERS will be received until MONDAY, 1st April, for the Excavation and Walling in Casterton-street. Plans and specifications with the architect, F. H. REUTS, 134, Pitt-street.

TENDERS for Street AWNING will be received at the Office of Mr. MUNRO, 64, Pitt-street, until WEDNESDAY, 27th March.

TO BUILDERS.—TENDERS are invited for alterations of Window, with Fixtures for Shop and 8th fl. Room of premises, 251, Pitt-street. Agreeable to specification.

MICHAEL J. MURPHY.

VICTORIA, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To the Widow and next of kin of RICHARD FREDERICK JACKSON, late of Minah Flat, near Mudgee, in the colony of New South Wales, formerly deceased,

WHEREAS it is represented to us in our Supreme Court of the colony of New South Wales, that the said Richard Frederick Jackson departed this life on or about the twenty-first day of January last, intestate, having at the time of his death goods and credits in the said colony. We have a city, and particularly the said person, his respective executors, before our said Court, at the Court House, in King-street, Sydney, on TUESDAY, the ninth day of April next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and then there to accept or refuse letters of administration of the goods and credits of the said deceased, or such cause as if he had died testate, the same should not be committed to ARTHUR COX, of Mudgee, in the said colony, a creditor of the said deceased.

Witness the Honorable Sir ALFRED STEPHEN, Knight, Companion of the Bath, our Chief Justice of our said Court, at Sydney, this twenty-second day of March, A.D. 1867.

B. D. HUTCHINSON, Prothonotary.

L. O. D. JAMES, Proctor for the said Arthur Cox, Deane by Deane, his agents, 104, Elizabeth-street, Sydney.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—AN ACCOUNT CURENT AND PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION is the insolvent Estate of JOHN KINGSMILL, showing DIVIDEND of £6 4d per £100, upon proved current debts, now due, and the balance of the estate, in the office of Insolvent, King-street, Sydney, and will be conducted on THURSDAY, the twenty-eighth day of March instant, if not previously objected. Dated this 22nd March, 1867.

FREDERICK THOMAS HUMPHREY, Official Assignee, 171, Pitt-street.

NOTICE.—THE PARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between us, the undersigned, as chemists and druggists, No. 34, South-street, under the style of Moore and Son, for this day dissolved. All debts due to us, or by us, will be discharged by JAMES MOORE, the younger, who will henceforth carry on the business on his own sole account. As witness our hands this 21st day of March, 1867.

J. S. MOORE.

JAMES MOORE, jun.

WITNESS.—JOHN DAWSON, solicitor.

NOTICE.—THE PARTNERSHIP hitherto existing between the undersigned, trading as Carcoats Butchers, No. 166, Pitt-street.—MONEY ADVANCED, at current rates on Mortgage of Freshfield and Leasowood Properties, will be repaid by mutual consent. All debts due to us by the firm will be received or discharged by JAMES MOORE, the younger, who will henceforth carry on the business on his own sole account. As witness our hands this 21st day of March, 1867.

WILLIAM BENJAMIN RICHARDS, CHABLES WILLIAMS.

March 22nd, 1867.

All debts due to the above firm are requested to be paid to Mr. Benjamin Richards, or his agent, or before April 1st, 1867; after which date all outstanding account will be handed to his solicitor for immediate recovery.

ASSIGNED ESTATE of DONALD MCKAY, Lambton.—All CLAIMS against the above Estate must be presented to the undersigned on or before the 25th instant, to enable him to declare his final account.

For the Trustees, PETER LOGAN.

West Maitland, March 15th.

RICHARD LAMP, Watchmaker, Jeweller, and Optician, 342, George-street (3 doors south of Mr. J. G. Cohen's Auction Rooms), respectfully solicits a renewal of the patronage so liberally bestowed by his former customers, when previously in the above building in George-street. The premises will be opened April 2nd, with an entire new and valuable stock.

What will be supplied, and much more useful as R. L. will trust my satisfaction from his friends and the general public.

RAYNER, TREVRE, and CO., Mort's Rooms, Pitt-street, Auctioneers, Land and Estate Agents, and Valuers. Advances made on properties for sale. Mortgages negotiated.

S. W. A. B. R. O. T. H. E. S., Flour and Grain Merchants, 116, George-street South. GENUINE SUPERFINE ADELAIDE and all kinds of flour, grain, meal, &c., for exportation.

H. T. BAKER, GALT, BARLING, BRAH, GALT, T. B. B. and A. L. M. E. AUCTIONEERS and COMMISSION AGENTS.

One-day sales in the city, suburbs, or country conduct Conventions of farm produce, for auction or private sale, will receive prompt attention.

19, HUNTER-STREET.

From £100 to £1000 cash advanced on freehold property, or goods for immediate sale.

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1867.

A CARD.—JAMES T. GROCOTT, Accountant, House and Estate Agent, Office, 136, King-street East, opposite Williams's Hotel.

SHIPPILES, RICHARD FREDERICK LYSTER will receive forms of every description carefully prepared.

A PUPILS IN FINDING and the cultivation of the vine, during his stay in Sydney. Terms at RIVY'S Music Warehouse, 321, George-street.

CARD.—Madame LAMONT, Teacher of Singing, Piano and Harmonium, Harrington-street, Churchgate.

FLACK, THE SINKER and Seal Engraver, to the various Government Offices, Official Schools, Merchants' Endorsements, Stationers, Booksellers, &c.

ARTHUR DEVLIN, Ship and Insurance Broker, and Commission Merchant, 15, Queen-street, South Melbourne.

GEORGE LORUS, 101, King-street.

LIBERTY LUNGHORN, Painter and Limner, 141, George-street, next to Lasseter's.

CHARLES DE VILLE, One, three, 5c., 7c., 10c., 12c., 15c., 18c., 21c., Cabinet, 3 for 12c., SCHRODER, Haymarket, W. H. SCHRODER, 645, George-street.

COUGILL and CO., 14, Pitt-street, next to Hutchings.

DAVIDSON, Practical Watch and Clock Maker, 8c., 117, William-street, Woolloomooloo.

CHAN ANTLET, Upholsterer, SYDNEY CARPET BEATING GROUND, Butechett's Bay.

DUQUESNE, 12, Pitt-street, next to Hutchings.

EVING, THE service of THOMAS D. MACNAB, Practical Diver, can be obtained at any time, by leaving orders at MITCHELL and CO.'s, Circular Quay.

F. COOPER, Dyer and Scourer, Mourning Dyed on the shortest notice. Elizabeth-street, next door to Elizabeth's Hotel.

UNKLES.—Funerals performed in the most appropriate manner, and at the lowest possible price.

WILLIAM L. LAMM, 14, BURLINGTON STREETS.

THE SYDNEY
MONTHLY OVERLAND
MAIL.

BY THE MAIL STEAMER GEELONG.

FROM 20TH FEBRUARY TO 22ND MARCH.

February 20th to March 1st.

Jas Sury Hills, Penny Bank held its annual meeting on Monday, the 11th instant. The institution is a prosperous state.

The committee of the Licensed Victuallers' Association met at the Freemasons' Hall Hotel, York-street, on the 8th instant, and transacted business.

The Surry Hills Y. M. I. Society held its fourth annual reunion in the Botany-street schoolrooms on the 19th instant.

The annual meeting of the Balmain Musical Union was held on the 20th instant, in the hall of the School of Arts, Darling-street. The report was read and agreed to, and the treasurer's balance sheet was considered very satisfactory.

On the 29th of January, two men on horseback advanced to cross the Murray at Deniliquin, when one, named John Bassett, was unfortunately drowned.

The cemetery at South Goulburn is now a complete wreck, the iron, wooden railings, and head-boards having been taken by some mischievous incendiary.

On Tuesday evening, the 19th instant, a musical entertainment was given by the members of the Redfern Mutual Improvement Society, assisted by the Redfern Choral Society, in the schoolroom adjoining the Congregational chapel.—Mr. John Sutherland, M.I.A., in the chair.

A new coal-field has been opened at Bloomfield, between East Maitland and Mount Victoria.

On Friday, the 8th instant, the Presbyterians of Balmain presented the Rev. A. W. Sinclair with a new, aside, and bridle, in token of their appreciation of his indefatigable zeal in his pastoral labours.

Mr. Wriggall, the recently appointed head master of the Sydney Grammar School, has taken charge of the Greek Class at the Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts, Hobart conducted by Mr. C. W. Windeyer.

The Australian Aborigines (with Mr. Wills) have played a rôl in Australia with the Albert Club, on the 2nd instant.

Last Sunday week a destructive fire occurred at the Cross Roads, near Herrin, by which a dwelling occupied by two families named Reynolds and McGovern was completely destroyed.

The mail from Goulburn to Sydney was robbed by three bushrangers, four miles from Goulburn, on the 22nd instant. Dr. Lane was one of the passengers.

Mr. Alexander Gray, late manager of the branch of the Commercial Bank at Singleton, has been committed on a charge of embezzlement.

These very fine samples of lead, the produce of the first smelting at the Woodlark lead-mines—fifteen miles from Yass—have been forwarded to Sydney.

In the vicinity of Stockyard Mountain, Jamison, the eagles, whose cry is in the neighbouring crags, have been a great nuisance to the settlers, committing sad havoc amongst the poultry. One of the largest of these offenders was recently shot.

On Tuesday last, nearly seven hundred boys and girls of the Distitute Children's Asylum at Randwick, had a very pleasant excursion to Richmond.

The Prince of Wales Theatre was opened for the drama under the management of Mr. E. Crabb, on Monday last.

The first quarterly meeting of the members of No. 1 Company Rifle Club for the present year, took place at the Volunteer Rifle Range, on Wednesday last.

Beneath the 10 o'clock bell, on Tuesday morning, two men of them armed with severe revolvers, made their appearance at Mr. Thomas Lee's residence, Woodlara, near Bathurst, hailed up the inmates, and ran away with a considerable amount of property.

The monthly meeting of the Acclimatisation Society was held at the School of Arts, last Monday night.

In the chair was the Rev. Mr. Cox, read an interesting paper on the system of acclimatising.

The annual meeting of the Anglican Church Society was held, last Monday evening, in St. John's schoolroom, Castlereagh-street. The room was well filled, and the chair was taken by the Bishop of Sydney. The report was read and adopted.

The Rev. Dr. John Young was present.

The Agricultural and Horticultural Show was held at Kiana on the 27th, and proved a great success. About 2000 persons were assembled—the largest number of people that ever gathered together in that town.

The tenth anniversary of the formation of the New South Wales Alliance for the Suppression of Intemperance was celebrated by a tea meeting, followed as usual by a public meeting in the Temperance Hall, Pitt-street, last Wednesday evening. The attendance was very good indeed, the large hall being nearly full; and the social repast went off pleasantly.

The matriculation examination in the Sydney University was opened on the 12th and terminated on the 22nd February. Sixty students graduated, of whom thirteen passed. Two under-graduates, members of the Universities of Oxford and Melbourne, were admitted ad eundem statum, in aid of the band fund of the South Sydney Volunteers, No. 19.

Friday, 5th to 15th March.

The vacant seat in the Assembly, consequent upon the resignation of Mr. Charles Cowper, is contended for by Mr. Marshall Burdkin, as a Free Trader, and Mr. Walter Renny, as a Protectionist.

The contest appears to excite a considerable degree of interest.

Mr. Sheridan Moore gave a literary and musical entertainment last Thursday week, at St. John's schoolroom, Randwick, to a large audience.

It is proposed to form a chess club at Woollahra and Paddington, similar to that of St. John's, Darling-street.

A preliminary meeting has already been held.

Last Thursday week Mr. W. G. Board, of Botany-street, Surry Hills, was drawing the charge of a double-barrelled gun, when by some means the charge went off and drove the ramrod through his chest, causing instantaneous death.

The first exhibition of the Ulladulla Agricultural Association came off on Friday, the 1st instant, and proved to be a complete success.

The annual rifle practice for the small-bore rifle practice for March took place on Saturday last. Mr. J. R. Linsley made the highest score with 65 points. Mr. Hayner was seconded with 62, and Mr. Slade third with 58.

The Rev. W. T. Mayne, Wesleyan minister, of the Wesleyan church, Tyrell-street, Newcastle, has been suspended from preaching for twelve months by the district meeting.

The Burwood Newcastle Smeltery, situated about three miles from Newcastle, is now in full operation under the management of Mr. M. Thomas.

A prisoner, named George J. Ross, has escaped from the gaol at Murrurundi on Saturday, the 2nd instant.

Persons interested in the Harbour at Wollongong are calling upon the Government to erect a new light-house at the pier.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Parkes, and the Postmaster-General, Mr. Dozier, left Sydney in the City of Melbourne, steamer, last Friday afternoon, for Melbourne, to represent this colony at the Postal Congress, to take place on Monday next.

A general election was given at St. Philip's, Woolloomooloo, on the evening of the 1st instant, in compliment to Mr. Edwin Colley, musical director of the choir of that church.

At a meeting of the Executive Council, held on the 1st instant, it was resolved that the law should take its course in the case of Scott, convicted of the murder of his wife. Scott's execution has been fixed for Monday, the 18th instant. The sentence on Thomas Connell was commuted to imprisonment for life, without mitigation, for three years in irons.

A writ has been issued for the trial of a member to serve in the Legislative Assembly, for East Sydney, in room of Charles Cowper, resigned.

A new code of regulations for the good management of the galls of the colony, made by the Executive Council, and published in a supplement to the Government Gazette on the 19th of last month, came into force on Friday last, the 1st instant.

Mr. Macintosh and some of his pupils gave a concert at Newtown last Monday night, in aid of the funds for erecting an infant schoolroom at St. Peter's, Cook's River.

On Monday, the 18th ultimo, Mr. James Layton, of Albany, was engaged in skinning a diseased sheep when, by some mischance, the animal poison was communicated to his frame, and caused his death. Several similar cases are reported. Among others a man, named Joshua Podley, died a few days since at Wagga Wagga from the same cause.

The bushranger who recently attempted to stick up Finch's hotel, at Bogal, has been captured by the police, and is now in custody.

An abstract of the regulations adopted by the Council of Education on the 27th ultimo is published in the Herald of Tuesday last.

The remains of Chin Ang Yung, murdered in December, 1866, were discovered last Sunday in a guilty off Rock Plains, near Kiandra, by Mr. Mant, the late police magistrate, who was assisted in his search by constable Gunn. Two men have been apprehended by the police.

The Harleym correspondent reports that a man named James Cox was burnt to death on the line, near Hartley, on the 17th ultimo.

An address of esteem and respect has been presented to Mr. E. H. Statham, at Parramatta, on his retirement from the office of manager of the Parramatta Lunatic Asylum, after twenty years' service.

Mr. Edward Simpson gave a farewell concert at the School of Arts, last Tuesday evening, at which Lady Young was present.

The annual meeting of the Australian Jockey Club took place at the Club Rooms last Tuesday afternoon, Colonel Waddy in the chair.

The trial surveys for the extension of the Great Southern Railway beyond Goulburn towards Wagga Wagga are being vigorously pushed on, and it is expected that the road over twenty miles of country will be completed in about a fortnight.

The annual review of the Redfern and Waterloo Congregational Sabbath school took place last Tuesday.

Several hundred children were conveyed by steamer to Cloarf, Middle Harbour, and there enjoyed themselves.

Snagging parties, under the direction of Mr. Labatt, have, for some time past, very beneficially employed on the Murrubridge River.

On Friday, the 8th instant, the Presbyterians of Balmain presented the Rev. A. W. Sinclair with a new, aside, and bridle, in token of their appreciation of his indefatigable zeal in his pastoral labours.

Mr. Wriggall, the recently appointed head master of the Sydney Grammar School, has taken charge of the Greek Class at the Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts, Hobart conducted by Mr. C. W. Windeyer.

The Australian Aborigines (with Mr. Wills) have played a rôle in Australia with the Albert Club, on the 2nd instant.

The setting up of the shipping-ship Vernon is being rapidly completed, but it will be a month before she is fit for sea.

A man, named Thomas Sullivan, was so severely injured by the slipping of a bale of wool, on the 23rd ultimo, that he died in the Infirmary on Tuesday last, of compression of the brain. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon, on which occasion a great number of the officers and men of the Naval Brigade of which deceased was a member followed the corpse to the Railway Station, attended by the Drums of the Royal Artillery.

Amongst recent deaths, not elsewhere mentioned, we have to record the following cases: A woman named Farrell was thrown from a cart at Pyrmont on the 1st instant, and killed on the spot. On the 10th instant, James Morris, a boy, killed by his fall from his horse, at a place called Greenhill on the Birrongton Creek.—On Saturday, the 9th instant, a seaman named James Thompson, belonging to the mail steamer Geelong, was drowned whilst in a state of intoxication. He was attempting to go on board his ship at the time.—A man named Peter Colson, a seaman belonging to the coaster Don Juan, was accidentally drowned by the upsetting of a boat in Darling Harbour, last Thursday week, the 7th instant. The rudder of the vessel, which was lost, was found floating in the water near the coast.

A communication has been received by the English mail from the solicitors in London to whom the case of Bertrand was entrusted by the Government of this colony, stating that the case for the appeal had been prepared, and left with the Registrar of the Privy Council, but that the prisoner's case had not been received by the Registrar. The Privy Council was to meet on the 1st of February, and it was expected that the case referred to would be argued during that month.

A short time since a boy entered a jeweller's shop in Sydney, and killed on the spot.

Mr. Robert Napier, a gentleman greatly respected, manager of the Commercial Bank, was found dead in a pond in his garden early in the morning of Wednesday last. The result of a careful inquiry into this melancholy event has proved that the death of Mr. Napier was the result of syncope. The deceased was, it would appear, walking near the abrupt edge of the pond, and fell in, becoming suddenly seized with fainting fits.

On the night between the 15th and 16th instant, there was a considerable fall of rain. There was then an interval of fine weather until Monday afternoon, when a heavy rain again set in, the weather continuing to be of an unusually inclement character until Tuesday morning last.

From the catalogue of exhibits sent to the Paris Exhibition, the Western Examiner learns that the following samples of wheat grown in the district were forwarded: Two exhibits of samples of wheat from the Highgate Hill, S. W. King, James Milne, T. Johnson, and W. Gunther.

The annual meeting of the Australian Jockey Club took place at the Club Rooms last Tuesday afternoon, Colonel Waddy in the chair.

The trials for the extension of the Great Southern Railway beyond Goulburn towards Wagga Wagga are being vigorously pushed on, and it is expected that the road over twenty miles of country will be completed in about a fortnight.

The annual review of the Redfern and Waterloo Congregational Sabbath school took place last Tuesday.

Several hundred children were conveyed by steamer to Cloarf, Middle Harbour, and there enjoyed themselves.

Snagging parties, under the direction of Mr. Labatt, have, for some time past, very beneficially employed on the Murrubridge River.

On Friday, the 8th instant, the Presbyterians of Balmain presented the Rev. A. W. Sinclair with a new, aside, and bridle, in token of their appreciation of his indefatigable zeal in his pastoral labours.

Mr. Wriggall, the recently appointed head master of the Sydney Grammar School, has taken charge of the Greek Class at the Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts, Hobart conducted by Mr. C. W. Windeyer.

The Australian Aborigines (with Mr. Wills) have played a rôle in Australia with the Albert Club, on the 2nd instant.

The setting up of the shipping-ship Vernon is being rapidly completed, but it will be a month before she is fit for sea.

A man, named Thomas Sullivan, was so severely injured by the slipping of a bale of wool, on the 23rd ultimo, that he died in the Infirmary on Tuesday last, of compression of the brain. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon, on which occasion a great number of the officers and men of the Naval Brigade of which deceased was a member followed the corpse to the Railway Station, attended by the Drums of the Royal Artillery.

Amongst recent deaths, not elsewhere mentioned, we have to record the following cases: A woman named Farrell was thrown from a cart at Pyrmont on the 1st instant, and killed on the spot. On the 10th instant, James Morris, a boy, killed by his fall from his horse, at a place called Greenhill on the Birrongton Creek.—On Saturday, the 9th instant, a seaman named James Thompson, belonging to the mail steamer Geelong, was drowned whilst in a state of intoxication. He was attempting to go on board his ship at the time.—A man named Peter Colson, a seaman belonging to the coaster Don Juan, was accidentally drowned by the upsetting of a boat in Darling Harbour, last Thursday week, the 7th instant. The rudder of the vessel, which was lost, was found floating in the water near the coast.

A communication has been received by the English mail from the solicitors in London to whom the case of Bertrand was entrusted by the Government of this colony, stating that the case for the appeal had been prepared, and left with the Registrar of the Privy Council, but that the prisoner's case had not been received by the Registrar. The Privy Council was to meet on the 1st of February, and it was expected that the case referred to would be argued during that month.

A short time since a boy entered a jeweller's shop in Sydney, and killed on the spot.

Mr. Robert Napier, a gentleman greatly respected, manager of the Commercial Bank, was found dead in a pond in his garden early in the morning of Wednesday last. The result of a careful inquiry into this melancholy event has proved that the death of Mr. Napier was the result of syncope. The deceased was, it would appear, walking near the abrupt edge of the pond, and fell in, becoming suddenly seized with fainting fits.

On the night between the 15th and 16th instant, there was a considerable fall of rain. There was then an interval of fine weather until Monday afternoon, when a heavy rain again set in, the weather continuing to be of an unusually inclement character until Tuesday morning last.

From the catalogue of exhibits sent to the Paris Exhibition, the Western Examiner learns that the following samples of wheat grown in the district were forwarded: Two exhibits of samples of wheat from the Highgate Hill, S. W. King, James Milne, T. Johnson, and W. Gunther.

The annual meeting of the Australian Jockey Club took place at the Club Rooms last Tuesday afternoon, Colonel Waddy in the chair.

The trials for the extension of the Great Southern Railway beyond Goulburn towards Wagga Wagga are being vigorously pushed on, and it is expected that the road over twenty miles of country will be completed in about a fortnight.

The annual review of the Redfern and Waterloo Congregational Sabbath school took place last Tuesday.

Several hundred children were conveyed by steamer to Cloarf, Middle Harbour, and there enjoyed themselves.

Snagging parties, under the direction of Mr. Labatt, have, for some time past, very beneficially employed on the Murrubridge River.

On Friday, the 8th instant, the Presbyterians of Balmain presented the Rev. A. W. Sinclair with a new, aside, and bridle, in token of their appreciation of his indefatigable zeal in his pastoral labours.

Mr. Wriggall, the recently appointed head master of the Sydney Grammar School, has taken charge of the Greek Class at the Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts, Hobart conducted by Mr. C. W. Windeyer.

The Australian Aborigines (with Mr. Wills) have played a rôle in Australia with the Albert Club, on the 2nd instant.

The setting up of the shipping-ship Vernon is being rapidly completed, but it will be a month before she is fit for sea.

A man, named Thomas Sullivan, was so severely injured by the slipping of a bale of wool, on the 23rd ultimo, that he died in the Infirmary on Tuesday last, of compression of the brain. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon, on which occasion a great number of the officers and men of the Naval Brigade of which deceased was a member followed the corpse to the Railway Station, attended by the Drums of the Royal Artillery.

Amongst recent deaths, not elsewhere mentioned, we have to record the following cases: A woman named Farrell was thrown from a cart at Pyrmont on the 1st instant, and killed on the spot. On the 10th instant, James Morris, a boy, killed by his fall from his horse, at a place called Greenhill on the Birrongton Creek.—On Saturday, the 9th instant, a seaman named James Thompson, belonging to the mail steamer Geelong, was drowned whilst in a

THE LATE SIR STUART A. DONALDSON.

The announcement of the decease of Sir STUART DONALDSON will not take his more intimate friends by surprise. They heard long ago that his life was threatened, and that in a form which left no room for hope. We understand that the valves of the heart had been seriously affected for the last two years, and that his life was preserved longer than his medical attendants deemed probable. He met his great change before this with extraordinary composure, which took place January the 11th. Mr. GEORGE MACLEAY, notwithstanding the season, reached Cumberland so as to be present at the funeral.

The first Premier under what is called responsible government, he had a relation to the history of this colony which will ensure the perpetuity of his name. He united in his Government all the talents which existing colonial parties in their most respectable combinations are likely to afford. Before the Constitution of Mr. WENTWORTH became law, he was a leader of the Opposition, if not its chief. It was expected that with Mr. COWPER as Colonial Secretary, and himself as Treasurer, the new system would be inaugurated. But the difficulty of harmonising the views of these gentlemen led to their separation in public life, to the great hindrance of both, and to the injury of the country. The effect was seen in giving a more conservative character to Mr. DONALDSON's policy than his previous career would have indicated, and of throwing Mr. COWPER on radical adherents, which he himself would hardly have chosen.

Sir STUART DONALDSON was acquainted with several languages, and was a speaker of considerable power. His diction was correct and scholarly—some would have added, occasionally pedantic. In this respect, a colonial Parliament must always offer an inferior rostrum. A great orator must have a great subject and a fitting audience, and the resources of rhetoric seem extravagant when they are too copious for the listeners or the occasion. The Administration of Mr. DONALDSON was pure and, indeed, we believe, unimpeached. It is not pretended that his patronage was either seriously misplaced or ever corrupt. Indeed, his ideas of Parliamentary government were too high and independent for the place. Had he possessed the experience of some who succeeded him, he might have imposed a much longer delay on their patience. When he found himself with a small majority on a question lightly treated by less scrupulous persons, he threw up the reins of office. He lived long enough to see the fate of a Ministry entirely detached from their measures, and to hear it announced that nothing ought to turn out a Premier but a vote of censure, or a trumpet, or until he became the last man of his Cabinet. Sir STUART DONALDSON returned to England, and received the honour of knighthood, as a recognition of his political services. Once he afterwards visited this colony, recalled by his private affairs. He continued, however, to take great interest in all Australian questions; and those of his former friends who visited him in England found always a cordial welcome, and a readiness to assist them with his advice and his influence. With other gentlemen, he was often active in movements intended to protect and assist the Australasians, and he anticipated for them a noble future. Sir STUART DONALDSON was a very genial companion, full of anecdote and humour. So far as we ever heard, his character as a merchant, a citizen, a husband, and a brother, was irreproachable. When he returned home Lord PALMERSTON had been obliged to relinquish office. They met on some occasion—the Premier of England and the Premier of New South Wales. With much wit and laughter the English lord condoned with the Australian knight—as being both examples of the uncertainty of popular favour, and the instability of fortune. Sir STUART was the third of his father's sons who in the course of a few years have died at the prime of life. Dr. DONALDSON, his elder brother, was very eminent scholar, and wrote a curious critical work on the Scriptures, which elicited some attention before the bold efforts of the Essays and Reviews, and the Bishop of Natal eclipsed all previous daring. A younger brother, previously with him in the colony, died while on a visit to his native country.

Sir STUART DONALDSON will be remembered by his opponents without acrimony, and his friends with tenderness. Many will recall his portly form, his pleasant countenance and merry voice, his loud and genial laugh, his festive cordiality, and they will deplore his early removal and accept the lesson of his death. It would not be unfeeling for the colony to rear some tablet to his memory. It would mark an epoch in our history, it would teach us by its quickly succeeding dates to moderate political passion, to temper personal ambition, and recognise the inevitable law which prostrates the robust constitution, silences the eloquent tongue, and so soon, also, covers all hopes and relations with the shadows of the grave.

The following is taken from the English journals:

DEATH OF SIR S. A. DONALDSON.—The death of Sir Stuart Alexander Donaldson took place on January 11, at Carlton Hall, Cumberland, the seat of his father-in-law, Mr. F. COWPER. Sir Stuart was the son of the late Mr. Stuart Donaldson, a merchant in London, and by the daughter of Mr. John Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to 1861 he was a member of the Legislative Assembly by the election of Mr. J. C. Canfield, of Bath, in Lancashire, and brother of the late Dr. Donaldson, of Cambridge. The deceased gentleman was born in 1812, married the daughter of Mr. F. COWPER in 1841, and for upwards of twenty years was head of the mercantile firm of Donaldson and Co., Sydney, New South Wales. From 1855 to at making a path in a way to astonish Europeans. We have always heard of large bush cultivations amongst the rebels, but we have never yet come across one, or even had fair evidence that one existed. If, therefore, the troops and the Arawa natives do not quickly subdue the rebels, I have no doubt that hunger and privation very soon will do so. The Government, however, are taking all the means in their power to put a speedy end to it by force of arms. Experience has taught them that a good leader is what is most required, seeing that our colonial force, well led, is invariably so immeasurably superior to the natives, and this they have now supplied. Major McDonnell, of Wanganui celebrity, has been appointed to the command on the East Coast, and there can be no doubt of the entire propriety of the appointment. As we must in great measure depend upon the co-operation of native allies, it is a thing of first-rate importance that we should have a man in command who commands the full esteem and respect of the natives, as well as Europeans engaged on our side. This McDonnell does more, perhaps, than any other man we have; and it is well he should be in a position where he can do more than has of late been possible at Wanganui.

He will leave Wanganui and the West Coast generally in the same unsatisfactory state of neither peace nor war, which has prevailed there now for a good many months. It is hard to see, indeed, what is to bring it to an end; and certainly nothing has been attempted as yet by the Government in that direction. The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

WANGANUI.—The Wanganui Times, of the 26th February, remarking on the necessity, now that Europeans are settling at Waitotara, of making the natives understand that they must conform to British law, quotes the following case in point:—"There is a large quantity of good timber sunk in the Waitotara river which should be removed, but although on confiscated land the natives will not allow a European to remove it without payment. A few days ago a settler drew a sharp broadsword, a large log of which he found floating down the river. He drew it on to confiscated land, and commenced to cut it up for building purposes. The natives at once claimed the log, and actually summoned the man for £10, at which they valued it. Whilst the case was pending, the European, during low water, fastened barrels to a sunken log with the intention of raising it, and not supposing that they would lay claim to it. In this, he was successful, for notwithstanding his efforts he did succeed in raising that log and other timber out of the river he must pay them their own valuation for it. As settlement goes on and the number of European settlers increases, these absurd claims of the natives cannot be tolerated, and the sooner they are clearly given to understand that the better. No European would attempt to interfere with timber upon their land without their permission, but they should be told that they can lay no claim to timber either upon confiscated land or to any log which impedes the entrance of the river. As well as the timber is liable to prevent the removal of dead timber from the navigable or any other part of the Wanganui river, or prevent a settler hauling on shore a log which he finds floating down it. As the claim of £10 for the log thus obtained from the Waitotara is not yet settled, we think the case should be submitted for the consideration of the Provincial Government. If decided in favour of the natives it will cause some difficulty in looking for a log. In the mean time the Superintendent's office is in treaty with the natives for the purchase of the Parakino. (On Saturday, (February 23rd) Lieutenant-Colonel Gorton, escorted by Comet Hurst, and six men of the W. Y. C. started for Kete-mara, where he resides Major McDonnell, who at once proceeds to take the command at Tauranga. Colonel Gorton expects to remain at Kete-mara for ten or twelve days, and will be relieved by Lieutenant-Colonel Lepard and return to Wanganui.)

We (Wanganui Times) have just received the following letter from our correspondent, and our readers will easily perceive that the threatening attitude assumed by the arch-rebel Pehi and his sons is simply the result of the restoration by Sir George Grey of the confiscated lands extending to Pehi's boundaries. Those confiscated lands may during the natural period of Sir George Grey's existence be so managed as to keep alive, to him, all important fact of native difficulty. Here is our correspondent's letter.—Kete-mara, 15th February, 1867. A letter was received yesterday from Thomas Turner, of Menghai, Tupsia Tupsia, and Pepe Tupsia, Tupsia, upon the natives of this place, for the last time, to come and join them, and fight the Pakeha. They have also called upon the natives of London, Jerusalem, King Wainoa, and Karatihua, to do the same. I saw and read the letter myself, and can therefore speak for the fact. It is addressed to the following chiefs of Wanganui—Pauo Haimona, Matiu, Horia King, Matiu, and Marti—and ends thus:—"This is our last to you, our cause. We give you for the last time to know we will inform you for the last time to your cause. We give you for the choice of two things. Either join us, or do not interfere in any way whatever with us. If you still insist in adhering to the cause of the Pakeha we shall have to treat you as we intend to do them." The letter then goes on to state that they have received, and are still receiving reinforcements from Taupo, Waika, Ngatimaiaputo, and that they intend fighting their way to the Ngatirauku country. On receipt of the letter the chief of Korintia, Matiu, held a "kereka" at his residence, 27, Charles-street, Wanganui, the wife of Thomas James Carrick, a daughter of Mr. W. A. McDonnell, and all who would stand by the Pakeha, and that if Tahana or any of his followers in any way broke the peace in any of the Wanganui river settlements, they would fight to the last. Towards the close of the meeting a rather curious incident occurred, which shows the loyal spirit cherished by some of these natives. A man named Wairiko rose and said:—"I, for one, will fight and die for my brother." Upon this he fell silent. What he meant. He then drew from his blanket, and carefully unfolded a sheet of the Illustrated London News, upon which was a large likeness of the Prince of Wales, the English King, and said, that was what a man by his brother.

Since I last wrote there has been feasting here, in consequence of a number of natives with their families who had been taken prisoners by the Waikatoians many years ago, having returned. It was known several days previous to their arrival that they were coming, and great preparations were made for their reception. On their arrival the war dance was performed with unusual vigour: then a tangi was held, after which the women were all fed and comfortably clothed, and certain not before they wanted both food and raiment. On their arrival here they had nothing but native mats to cover their shoulders, nothing to sleep in; and judging from their appearance and the manner in which they devoured the food before them, it is pretty certain that they were not well treated during their captivity. Should the expected hostile movement take place you shall have particulars as they come to hand.

By the schooner Harriet King, we have news from Auckland to the 29th March.

There had been another skirmish with the rebel natives at Tauranga.

The special correspondent of the Southern Cross, writing there on the 16th instant— "in the absence of your special reporter at Rotorua, for which place he left in the early part of last week in order to be present at and witness the movements of the Arawas against Kororao and Hukarau's paternal settlement, Puhirua, I forward the following account of events." The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with the land which they have taken by proclamation; and they are glad to hold it even nominally in any way hoping that something may turn up to get them out of a very real difficulty. I suppose that when the Tauranga difficulty is disposed of this will be faced in some way, and no doubt a prompt disposal of the East coast rebels would have a sedative effect upon the minds of those natives inclined to dispute our West coast land claims.

An occurrence which exhibits the credulous phase of Maori character has just occurred at the Chatham Islands. It appears that a rumour had got abroad amongst the prisoners, or rather political exiles there, that they were all to be exonerated forthwith by the colonial authorities, and the belief was strong enough to render the position of the score or so of colonial troops and the handful of Englishmen on the island anything but safe one. The Government sent at once to re-assure them as to their personal safety, which it is hard for Europeans to suppose they could ever have seriously doubted, especially when they found themselves in the proportion of something like fifty to one of the Europeans on the islands. Possibly the excitement was got up by some designing person amongst them in the hope of getting up a rising, and so eventually getting away from the place, which, although a fair sort of place for exile, is still, of course, in some sense a house of bondage to the wild spirits who made New Zealand too warm for their further residence there to be desirable. On the other hand the liability to such panics is a curious and a very awkward feature of the native character capable of being very fatally used by designing men.

The 18th Regiment still remains in the district, occupying certain posts which are supposed to command part of the land confiscated between Wanganui and Tararua. That they do not at all command the district, or, indeed, anything beyond rifle shot of the redoubts, has been proved so often by the natives that it is a puzzle to see why they are kept there at all. The most probable solution of the difficulty appears to be that the Government really have not a notion what to do with

Department of Public Works.

Sydney, 22nd March, 1867.

TENDERS for PUBLIC WORKS AND SUPPLIES.

Tenders are invited for the following Public Works and Supplies. For full particulars see GOVERNMENT GAZETTE, a file of which is kept at every Police Office in the colony.

No tender will be taken into consideration unless the terms of the notice be strictly complied with.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Nature of Works and Supplies.

Date to which Tenders can be received at this Office.

Supply of 100 Goods Wagons.

Construction of Bridges over Kentucky Creek and Cariby Gully, on the Great Western Road.

Great Southern Road—

3rd District, 2nd Division.

Contract 5-67—Metalling at Money Money.

Contract 6-7—Forming and Metalling Sheep-skin street, Gundagai.

Great Southern Road—

3rd District, 1st Division.

Contract 3-67—North bank to top of Gap Range.

Contract 4-67—Top of Gap Range to south bank.

Additions to the Lock-up at Fort Bourke.

Great Southern Road—2nd District.

Supply of 500 yards Metal, between Marulan and Plumb's.

Painter's repairs, &c., Watch-house, at Morpeth.

Great Western Road—4th District.

Contract 5-67—Gamboola Bridge to Botany Bay.

Great Western Road—3rd District.

Contract 3-67—Junction Hill.

Contract 4-67—Mount Lambie Division.

Contract 5-67—Pryning, west of Farson's Inn.

Contract 6-67—Spargo's Hill.

Mudges Road—

Contract 10-67—Stoney Pinch.

Great Western Road—2nd District.

Contract 6-67—Between Gundagai and Cross Roads, near Birrins.

Contract 4-67—Between Railway Crossing at Marulan and the Lockup, Wingello.

Cartage of 800 tons of Rail from King's Table Land to Blighty.

Great Southern, Western, and Northern Districts.

Building 21 Level Crossings.

Gate Lodges.

Erection of Station Buildings, Platform, &c., Sutton Forest.

Additions and Alterations to Abattoirs, Goulburn Island.

Erection of Court and Watch-house, Cooma.

Great North-horn Road—1st District.

Contract 5-67—Singleton to Falbrook Bridge.

Contract 10-67—Brown's Hill to Aberdeens.

Contract 11-67—between Mount Ararat and Scone.

Contract 12-67—Seems to Cliffield Flat.

Contract 13-67—Ironbark Gully to Bas's Guy's North.

Contract 14-67—South of Dangar's Creek, opposite to B. M. 117.

Contract 15-67—Blundell's Flat to Murray's.

Contract 16-67—North of Colly Creek Bridge.

JAMES BYRNES.

PARISH ROADS—Two roads from the New South Wales Road to the Broken-Bridge, high water mark, confirmed by GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 26th February, 1867, with an alternative Plan and Book of Roads to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Central Police Office, Sydney.

Claims for compensation to be served on the Colonial Secretary within forty days from the 26th February, 1867.

See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 26th February, No. 34.

1 Through R. Moxey's 40 acres 3 rods 11 perches, being a deviation in a portion of the branch road from the Stockton and Raymond Terminus Road to Salvit, in lieu of that portion of the Branch Road opened through land supposed to be the property of Richard Moxey and the Crown.

Objections to be lodged within one month from the 1st March, 1867.

See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From the Windsor Head via the Riversdale Railway Station to Easton Creek via the Blackstone Road, in the road preliminarily notified in GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of 18th April, 1865, running through lands supposed to be the property of Richard Moxey and the Crown.

Objections to be lodged within one month from the 1st March, 1867.

See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From Milson's Arm Creek to the road from Sydney to the Wollombi Brook, confirmed by GOVERNMENT GAZETTE note 2 of 1st March, 1867. Plan and Book of Roads to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Police Office, Wollombi.

Claims for compensation to be served on the Colonial Secretary within forty days from the 1st March, 1867.

See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From Bogabri to Tambo, running through lands supposed to be the property of J. H. C. Williams and the Crown. Plan and Book of Roads deposited at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Police Office, Wondai.

Objections to be lodged within one month from the 1st March, 1867. See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From Tamworth to Barraba, confirmed by GOVERNMENT GAZETTE note 1 of 1st March, 1867. Plan and Book of Roads to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Police Office, Tamworth.

Claims for compensation to be served on the Colonial Secretary within forty days from the 1st March, 1867.

See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From Bogabri to Tambo, running through lands supposed to be the property of J. H. C. Williams and the Crown. Plan and Book of Roads deposited at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Police Office, Wondai.

Objections to be lodged within one month from the 1st March, 1867. See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

From East Maitland to Paterson, forming the approaches to Pinjarra Bridge, informed with a deviation. Plan and Book of Reference to be seen at the office of the Surveyor-General, in Sydney, and at the Police Office, East Maitland.

Objections to be lodged within one month from the 1st March, 1867. See GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of that date, No. 37.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Manston's Creek, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 7th November, 1865, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

J. BOWIE WILSON.

Department of Lands.

SYDNEY, 1st March, 1867.

ROAD.—Notice is hereby given, that the line of Parish Road, from Yass to Canberra Ford, now Canberra Church, with the alternative road via Duntron and J. Bowley's 1050 acres to Queanbeyan, mentioned in the GOVERNMENT GAZETTE of the 9th October, 1866, has been formally marked and opened by the proper officer, and that the same is now open for public use.

SALES BY AUCTION.

SNUG CITY INVESTMENT.

CHIPPENDALE.

TWO-STORY DWELLING-HOUSE, No. 31, Middle-street; and COTTAGE, No. 33, adjoining.

These premises are remarkably well and substantially built of brick on stone foundations, with large rooms, each contain four rooms, with beds, &c., at the rear. The rooms are oil painted, and neatly finished with cedar in the best style. The outside front walls are cemented, and the whole property, for compactness and strength, will bear close inspection.

The premises occupy all the frontage to Middle-street.

RICHARDSON AND WRENCH have received instructions from Mrs. McKinnon to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 25th March, at 11 o'clock.

The above-described city property, in Middle-street, Chippendale, between Cleveland and Bank streets.

Plan at the Rooms.

GREAT UNRESERVED SALE,

on the ground.

MONDAY, 1st April.

THE ELSWICK ESTATE.

(Peterloo Railway Station).

Subdivided as per plan.

250 ACRES, extending from the Parramatta Road to Long Grove Road, including

The first class family mansion.

ELSWICK HOUSE,

with Grounds, containing 14 acres on the Parramatta Road, laid out as Park, Shrubbery, Garden, Orchard, &c., &c.

The residue comprises beautifully-situated VILLA SITES, containing from 2 to 6 acres each, fronting Parramatta, Bank, and other good roads, 1 chain wide. Several of these sites are surrounded by fine trees and shrubberies, and on some of them are commanding buildings, including the residence's residence, extensive ranges of stabling, and other out-offices.

The whole of this celebrated estate has been re-subdivided, to meet the views of all classes of buyers, and will be POSITIVELY SOLD,

to close the accounts of the ESTATE OF THE LATE JAMES NORTON, ESQ.,

LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS of the subdivision, also CARDS TO VIEW ELSWICK HOUSE, may be obtained at the Rooms.

Terms of sale—One-third cash; residue may remain secured by mortgage for a term of years at 7 per cent.

Title—Particulars may be obtained on application to Messrs. Norton and Barker, solicitors, Elizabeth-street.

RICHARDSON AND WRENCH have received instructions from the Executors of the will of the late James Norton, Esq., to sell by public auction,

ON THE GROUND,

MONDAY, 1st April,

The whole of that valuable, favourably-situated property.

THE ELSWICK ESTATE,

PETERSHAM.

Subdivided as per plan.

SECTION 1.—Lot 1, comprising Eswick House and grounds, of about 14 acres in ACRES fronting the Parramatta Road and Norton-street.

THE HOUSE is a most substantial, commodious family mansion, built of brick on stone foundations, containing the following accommodation—

THE GROUND FLOOR.

Main hall, 27 x 15

Drawing-room, 27 x 17

Dining-room, 26 x 16

Nursery, 23 x 20

Breakfast-room, 18 x 13

Library, 18 x 13

Sitting-room, dining room, buttery's pantry with iron safe for plate.

ON THE FIRST FLOOR.

Five good bedrooms, 2 dressing-rooms, and patent water closet.

ON THE SECOND OR ATTIC FLOOR.

3 bedrooms.

ON THE BASEMENT.

Spacious cellar.

The whole of these premises are in good tenable order.

The charge and foundations are made of massive masonry. The walls are thick, and all doors, windows, &c., are very extensive, and the walls of the house 18 inches thick.

Plastered verandahs, 10 feet wide, are round three sides. In the courtyard, and attached to the house by a covered way, is a large brick building, which includes the kitchen, scullery, and other convenient apartments.

THE GROUNDS (14 acres) are carefully laid out as a park, with carriage drives, and includes several acres of gardens and luxuriant shrubbery of choice trees.

LOTS 2 to 11 contain each from 3 to 6 acres, fronting the Parramatta Road, Eswick, Marion, and Norton streets.

There are all more or less improved, being mostly portions of the orchard, vineyard, and cleared paddocks of the estate.

On Lot 6 (4 acres) is a good dwelling-house, the roomy, well-furnished, and comfortable residence of the owner's residence. Lot 10 (4 acres) will include very extensive stabling, coach-houses, loose-houses, stables, &c., surrounding a large court-yard, the whole of which covers about an acre of land. On Lot 11 is a brick-built cottage of 6 rooms.

SECTION 2.—10 lots containing each about 4 acres, fronting Allen, Norton, Eswick, and Marion streets.

SECTION 3.—12 lots, each from 2 to 4 acres, fronting the Parramatta and Balmain Roads and Norton streets.

SECTION 4.—14 lots, each 2 to 4 acres, fronting the Parramatta Road and Eswick-street.

SECTION 5.—6 lots, each about 3 acres adjoining the Esseman Estate, the property of G. W. Lord, Esq.

The Estate has been subdivided in a most liberal manner for purchasers, the whole of the roads are 66 feet wide, a public approach is provided to the waters of Long Cove, and where practicable purchasers will be allowed the option of increasing the area of the several sites.

Eswick is admitted to be without exception the CHOICEST SUBURBAN ESTATE of Sydney. It is only a FEW MINUTES' WALK from the PETERHILL RAILWAY STATION, and about 3 MILES from a GOOD HOTEL, and a CINERIA. The position is elevated, and the land delightfully undulating, the main number of the sites commanding CHARMING VIEWS of the RURAL PICTURESQUE SCENERY of the surrounding country.

The soil generally is superior, and adapted for orchard and vine culture, in some portions of the Estate it is very rich and will be available for such purposes.

Eswick House is one of the most secluded yet pleasantly situated residences in the colony. Its great accommodation, eligible healthy position, and the large area of highly improved grounds which surround it, will attract the attention of those seeking a FIRST-CLASS SUBURBAN HOME.

MARSHMAN is a DENOMINATIONAL SCHOLASTIC ESTABLISHMENT in connection with the University, from which it is only distant about a mile. The House and a small portion of the land surrounding it is at present let to the Rev. W. Scott on terms expiring at the end of this month, and the rent of £200 per annum. Waiting the disposal of the property a low rent for this portion will be accepted by the trustees that immediate possession could be given to the purchaser.

It is only necessary to state in conclusion that the whole MUST BE REALISED to put the property in a position to carry out the terms of the will of the late Mr. Morton, therefore special attention is directed to the opportunity for securing on LIBERAL TERMS a portion of this POPULAR AND VERY DESIRABLE SUBURBAN PROPERTY.

With the aid of lithographic plans obtainable on application, purchasers will be enabled to identify without difficulty each lot of the estate on the ground.

RAYMOND TERRACE, at the Junction of the Hunter and Williams Rivers.

AGRICULTURAL AND DAIRY FARM, with water-carrage.

UNRESERVED SALE.

1200 ACRES OF LAND, about 9 miles from Raymond Terrace, on the Main Road to New England, and close to Moossman's Ferry on the Williams River, and known as

BLACKBROOK.

TITLE, Grant from the Crown to the Vendor.

RICHARDSON AND WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 5th APRIL, at 11 o'clock.

All lots two sections of land, each containing 660 acres, granted to Thomas Caswell, near Raymond Terrace, about 1 mile from Dubbo, the estate of Captain William Caswell.

This estate affords a fine opportunity for purchasing a dwelling house within a few miles of constant water-carrage. The land is well grazed, and timbered, and has a never-failing supply of water. A part is cleared, a few hundred acres partially fenced, and there is a small temporary residence on the property.

Plan on view at the Rooms.

Terms at sale.

CHIPPENDALE.

THREE WELL FINISHED SUBSTANTIAL DWELLING-HOUSES, Nos. 21, 24, and 26 MIDDLE-STREET, between Bank and Cleveland streets; and YERANDAH COTTAGE at the rear, No. 47, CHIPPENDALE STREET, with Stables and large Block of Land.

RICHARDSON AND WRENCH have received instructions from Mrs. McKinnon to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 25th March, at 11 o'clock.

The above-described city property, in Middle-street, Chippendale, between Cleveland and Bank streets.

Plan at the Rooms.

GREAT UNRESERVED SALE,

on the ground.

MONDAY, 1st April.

THE ELSWICK ESTATE.

(Peterloo Railway Station).

Subdivided as per plan.

250 ACRES, extending from the Parramatta Road to Long Grove, including

The first class family mansion.

ELSWICK HOUSE,

with Grounds, containing 14 acres on the Parramatta Road, laid out as Park, Shrubbery, Garden, Orchard, &c., &c.

The residue comprises beautifully-situated VILLA SITES, containing from 2 to 6 acres each, fronting Parramatta, Bank, and other good roads, 1 chain wide. Several of these sites are surrounded by fine trees and shrubberies, and on some of them are commanding buildings, including the residence's residence, extensive ranges of stabling, and other out-offices.

The whole of this celebrated estate has been re-subdivided, to meet the views of all classes of buyers, and will be POSITIVELY SOLD,

to close the accounts of the ESTATE OF THE LATE JAMES NORTON, ESQ.,

LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS of the subdivision, also CARDS TO VIEW ELSWICK HOUSE, may be obtained at the Rooms.

Terms of sale—One-third cash; residue may remain secured by mortgage for a term of years at 7 per cent.

Title—Particulars may be obtained on application to Messrs. Norton and Barker, solicitors, Elizabeth-street.

RICHARDSON AND WRENCH have received instructions from the Executors of the will of the late James Norton, Esq., to sell by public auction,

ON THE GROUND,

MONDAY, 1st April,

The whole of that valuable, favourably-situated property.

THE ELSWICK ESTATE,

PETERSHAM.

Subdivided as per plan.

SECTION 1.—Lot 1, comprising Eswick House and grounds, of about 14 acres in ACRES fronting the Parramatta Road and Norton-street.

THE HOUSE is a most substantial, commodious family mansion, built of brick on stone foundations, containing the following accommodation—

THE GROUND FLOOR.

Main hall, 27 x 15

Drawing-room, 27 x 17

Dining-room, 26 x 16

Nursery, 23 x 20

Breakfast-room, 18 x 13

Library, 18 x 13

Sitting-room, dining room, buttery's pantry with iron safe for plate.

ON THE FIRST FLOOR.

Five good bedrooms, 2 dressing-rooms, and patent water closet.

ON THE SECOND OR ATTIC FLOOR.

3 bedrooms.

ON THE BASEMENT.

Spacious cellar.

The whole of these premises are in good tenable order.

The charge and foundations are made of massive masonry. The walls are thick, and all doors, windows, &c., are very extensive, and the walls of the house 18 inches thick.

Plastered verandahs, 10 feet wide, are round three sides. In the courtyard, and attached to the house by a covered way, is a large brick building, which includes the kitchen, scullery, and other convenient apartments.

THE GROUNDS (14 acres) are carefully laid out as a park, with carriage drives, and includes several acres of gardens and luxuriant shrubbery of choice trees.

LOTS 2 to 11 contain each from 3 to 6 acres, fronting the Parramatta Road, Eswick, Marion, and Norton streets.

There are all more or less improved, being mostly portions of the orchard, vineyard, and cleared paddocks of the estate.

On Lot 6 (4 acres) is a good dwelling-house, the roomy, well-furnished, and comfortable residence of the owner's residence. Lot 10 (4 acres) will include very extensive stabling, coach-houses, loose-houses, stables, &c., surrounding a large court-yard, the whole of which covers about an acre of land. On Lot 11 is a brick-built cottage of 6 rooms.

SECTION 2.—10 lots containing each about 4 acres, fronting Allen, Norton, Eswick, and Marion streets.

SECTION 3.—12 lots, each from 2 to 4 acres, fronting the Parramatta and Balmain Roads and Norton streets.

SECTION 4.—14 lots, each 2 to 4 acres, fronting the Parramatta Road and Eswick-street.

SECTION 5.—6 lots, each about 3 acres adjoining the Esseman Estate, the property of G. W. Lord, Esq.

The Estate has been subdivided in a most liberal manner for purchasers, the whole of the roads are 66 feet wide, a public approach is provided to the waters of Long Cove, and where practicable purchasers will be allowed the option of increasing the area of the several sites.

Eswick is admitted to be without exception the CHOICEST SUBURBAN ESTATE of Sydney. It is only a FEW MINUTES' WALK from the PETERHILL RAILWAY STATION, and about 3 MILES from a GOOD HOTEL, and a CINERIA. The position is elevated, and the land delightfully undulating, the main number of the sites commanding CHARMING VIEWS of the RURAL PICTURESQUE SCENERY of the surrounding country.

The soil generally is superior, and adapted for orchard and vine culture, in some portions of the Estate it is very rich and will be available for such purposes.

Eswick House is one of the most secluded yet pleasantly situated residences in the colony. Its great accommodation, eligible healthy position, and the large area of highly improved grounds which surround it, will attract the attention of those seeking a FIRST-CLASS SUBURBAN HOME.

MARSHMAN is a DENOMINATIONAL SCHOLASTIC ESTABLISHMENT in connection with the University, from which it is only distant about a mile. The House and a small portion of the land surrounding it is at present let to the Rev. W. Scott on terms expiring at the end of this month, and the rent of £200 per annum. Waiting the disposal of the property a low rent for this portion will be accepted by the trustees that immediate possession could be given to the purchaser.

It is only necessary to state in conclusion that the whole MUST BE REALISED to put the property in a position to carry out the terms of the will of the late Mr. Morton, therefore special attention is directed to the opportunity for securing on LIBERAL TERMS a portion of this POPULAR AND VERY DESIRABLE SUBURBAN PROPERTY.

With the aid of lithographic plans obtainable on application, purchasers will be enabled to identify without difficulty each lot of the estate on the ground.

RAYMOND TERRACE,

at the Junction of the Hunter and Williams Rivers.

AGRICULTURAL AND DAIRY FARM, with water-carrage.

UNRESERVED SALE.

TELEGRAPHIC MESSAGES.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.]

MUDGEES.

FRIDAY.

Tues Quarter Sessions concluded to-day. William Law and Thomas Dingle were found guilty of cattle-stealing, and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment each. William Lawlor, for forgery, was found guilty, and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. Thomas Snow and John Stevens, for cattle-stealing, were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment each. Thomas Alfred Roger Weston, for highway robbery, was found guilty, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. Timothy Hurley was found guilty of destroying property, and sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment. Daniel Butler, for forgery, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. Edward Slattery, for unlawfully wounding, was found guilty, and sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment. William Breysen, for unlawfully using a horse, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment. Ah Ho, for unlawfully wounding a horse, was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment. Mary Ann Hogan, for stealing from a dwelling, was sentenced to two years' hard labour. John Patterson, for unlawfully using a horse, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

GOULBURN.

FRIDAY, 6 P.M.

Mr. John Kelly, surveyor, did suddenly of apoplexy this afternoon.

BRISBANE.

FRIDAY, 6 P.M.

A meeting is to be held on Monday, to initiate a protection league.

The first lot of tallow of this season's boiling on the Brisbane has been received.

The weather is splendid. Cotton picking is in full operation, and the growers are in excellent spirits.

Business is quiet; maize sold at 3s. to 3s. 3d.; and new, 2s. 9d. to 3s.

MELBOURNE.

FRIDAY, 6 P.M.

THE POSTAL CONFERENCE.

The International Postal Conference has agreed to maintain all three routes by Galle, Panama, and Torres Straits. The Imperial Government is to be asked by the colonies jointly to terminate the present contract with the P. & O. Company, and to pay half the amount of the three services—the colonies to pay the other half in proportions agreed upon. The Torres Straits line of steamers are to sail direct to and from Singapore; the dates of departure to be so arranged as to give a fortnightly mail. Queensland is to extend the telegraph to Cape York, and to erect lighthouses, and put down buoys in the Straits.

The Conference has also agreed to ask the Imperial Government to pass a short Act to enable the authorities of one colony to apprehend persons guilty of minor offences in another.

The Sydney delegates are on board the Wonga Wonga (s.).

There is little doing in general business. New caravans are quoted at 5s.

ANSWER.—Alexandra (s.), from Sydney.

ADELAIDE.

FRIDAY, 6 P.M.

The Barrier Ranges bubble has burst. The trooper returned, and reports that there were three persons at work on the supposed diggings, but no gold had been obtained.

The banks have raised the price of draught on England half per cent.

A terrible accident happened off Troubridge Shoal Lighthouse; the two keepers, their wife, and one child were drowned by the upsetting of the boat when crossing from York's Peninsula.

Several ships have been prevented from sailing by the shallow water on the bar, caused by the neap tides and easterly winds.

There was heavy rain to-day, with a thunder-storm.

The corn market is very quiet, and prices are without alteration. There are no transactions to report.

SAILED.—Rangatira (s.), for Melbourne.

THE GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.

The following notifications appear in yesterday's Government Gazette.—

THE CHINA GOLD FIELD.—The following Gold Field has been established:—The Gold Field on Crown Land, in the county of Monaro, within a watershed of the Tyaung Creek, from source downwards, to its confluence with the Burragong Creek, to be called "The Tyaung Gold Field."

Mr. Henry, of Northbridge Station, is to be the first of the Licentees. An application for the first instant, vice Fifth, Mr. Joseph Dow, M.D., to be vaccinator for the district of Tamworth. The following gentlemen to be inspectors of sheep under the Diseases in Sheep Act of 1858.—Mr. Gordon Bruce, for Albury; and Mr. George C. C. Clegg, for Wagga Wagga.

NEWCASTLE DISTRICT COURT.—In pursuance of the 4th section of the District Courts Act of 1858, his Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, has ordered that the District Court, lately appointed to be held at Tamworth, in the South-western District, shall sit at that place, during such intervals of recess, hereafter, during each year, as intervals of not more than two months, less than two weeks.

THE DOG ACT.—The provisions of the Dog Act have been extended to the town of Gunnedah—and west.

ACTS OF LOCAL PARLIAMENT.—The Right Hon. the Governor of the Colonies has intimated that the District Court, will be the court of record in all cases of trial by jury in respect of the following Acts passed by the Legislature of this colony, viz.—"An Act for the more effectual punishment of Drunks"; "An Act to establish Workhouses in the City of Sydney"; "An Act to amend the Laws relating to the Gold-field"; "An Act to provide for the Registration of Brands"; "An Act to amend the Law relating to advances of gold made to Agents entrusted with goods"; "An Act to amend the Law of Partnership"; "An Act to alter the Law relating to the appointment of District Court Judges"; "An Act to continue the Felons' Appreciation Act for another year."

NEW FRUIT INDIGENOUS TO QUEENSLAND.—The following communication from Mr. Walter Hill, of the Botanic Garden, appears in the Government Gazette of the 19th instant:—"We are doubtful whether the varieties of Australian edible fruit are many and far between, and when anything of the kind is discovered and can be made available, I think it only right that the fact should be made public through the Times. Some years ago I observed in a tree growing in a small bushy copse in some trees, the botanic name of which is Macadamia Tetraphylla, but I was not aware until recently that it bore an edible fruit, and singular to say, the aborigines appear to have been equally ignorant. The tree is now bearing abundantly in the scrubby bushes, and in the open localities the children of the Europeans, as well as those of the blacks, are regularly employed in gathering the fruit for the purpose of food. The tree is said to yield a sample for your own examination, is about the size of a man's head, and bears a thick, smooth, brown colored nut, embracing a kernel of remarkable rich and agreeable flavor, resembling in some respects that of a chestnut, but to my taste much superior. I take this mode of addressing you with a view to induce you to publish a subject which, as far as known indeed, is the best mode of drawing the attention of cultivators to the desirability of cultivating the tree, which I think would greatly enhance its productiveness and the size and quality of its fruit."

THE CHINESE.—A correspondent sends to the Government Gazette the following account of the Chinese who have been passing through this colony, and reference to some fine specimens of which, seen at the South Pine River, was made in that journal a few weeks ago.—The Chinese pig makes an excellent portly for this part of Australia, which is nearly one of the few, if not the only, part of the country which has not been explored. The Chinese are black and the mixed. There are two kinds of the Chinese here, the black and the mixed. They have been already mentioned in your paper, and I should consider decidedly at best, being more hairy and coarser than the others. They are the progeny of the Chinese who have been here for a few weeks past. New South Wales appears to China pig. It is a coarse, fat, and somewhat ugly animal, but when fed on beans, some say, and with flesh, if the animal is allowed to fatten on oil. But if he is allowed but a limited bit of greenish ground, including a bit of swamp and marshy land, the Chinese is quite another animal. When fed on beans, with some salt, and a few roots or other fodder, until eight or ten months old, the Chinese is fat and well fed with corn, garden or dairy refuse, in a few weeks he makes as fine a porker as one could wish for, and when killed in winter makes good round bacon."

CLEVELAND BAY.

TERRIFIC HURRICANE AT TOWNSVILLE.
DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY TO THE VALUE OF £15,000.(From the Cleveland Bay Express, March 9.)

It is our painful task to have to record the disaster of Sunday, 3rd March; it is also a difficult thing to know where to fix a base to raise a description of the fearful hurricane that caused such damage to the property of the inhabitants of this township—a flowing pen or fertile brain is not required in this case: too many miserable wrecks of property now lie scattered everywhere to testify to the truthfulness of this statement.

On Sunday morning, a strong gale blew from the S.W.S., and the weatherwise this gave a warning of some great disturbance of the atmosphere that would be followed by something unusual in these latitudes. As the hours flew by, so increased the anxiety of our townspeople. At 12 o'clock the gale increased considerably, coming in gales, accompanied by heavy rain, a lull now and then, being allowed by the God of Winds, as it taking with it the bold and mighty winds that blast forth destruction, and run on power and violence.

Up to this time the damage of consequence was done to property; but now Bolts belched forth his mighty winds, and spread rain and desolation around. The wind veering round to the S.S.W., and continuing steadily to shift round the compass, came upon us. There is only one house left intact on the plantation, and the longboat which stood high and dry on the bank of the creek and drawn no less than two feet of water, was floated up among the maize.

Showing the violence of the gale, sheets of iron that lay imbedded in the sand, were taken up again 200 yards from their former resting-place.

The observatory of Mr. J. M. Black was blown down by the gale, hence we are unable to publish a meteorological table this week.

as we are at present by the impassability of the roads, we cannot for certain ascertain what may have occurred on distant stations.

"I beg now to adduce to you some slight ideas of the ruin done to property in about this town, which is almost impossible to give a correct account of the loss in a sum total. Some have estimated the general loss at £10,000, but, taking the damage done to the boiling-down establishment and the plantation, &c., &c., we fear £15,000 is nearer the mark. This is a large amount for a new township to lose, but we must cheer up and sympathise with each other in our distress. A town like this, possessing the advantages it does of central position to the vast cattle and sheep tracks of the interior of the colony, is bound to be a great centre of trade, and a road to the outside world, with injury to the free-selectors, removes much of the objection now made to free selection, while, as regards the pastoral interest as affected by the plan, we are enabled to state that English capital only stands to gain by the establishment of agricultural areas, world, without injury to the free-selectors, and we may add that we believe it to be the only mode by which the lines themselves can be completed, or made to pay for a period of time to come, as the colony can be placed fairly on the road to permanent prosperity."

We hope to give to you the details of the damage, which will itself explain all particulars in outline, but this may add that we believe it to be the only mode by which the lines themselves can be completed, or made to pay for a period of time to come, as the colony can be placed fairly on the road to permanent prosperity."

During nearly the whole of the storm which raged on Sunday last, the Rev. E. Tanner camped under a bullock dray, which position, though perhaps one of the most safe at the time, the trees were falling and sheets of iron flying along, we are inclined to think was not the most comfortable.

At 12 o'clock the plantation has suffered most severely from the effects of the late storm. Mr. Windster assures us that the profits from this plantation would have been very great had not this calamity come upon us. There is only one house left intact on the plantation, and the longboat which stood high and dry on the bank of the creek and drawn no less than two feet of water, was floated up among the maize.

Showing the violence of the gale, sheets of iron that lay imbedded in the sand, were taken up again 200 yards from their former resting-place.

The observatory of Mr. J. M. Black was blown down by the gale, hence we are unable to publish a meteorological table this week.

IRISH RELIEF FUND.

We are requested by the committee of the Irish Relief Fund to publish the following correspondence:

Sydney, 23rd October, 1866.

To the Honorable James Martin, Esq., Premier, New South Wales.

"Sir,—Our recent advices from England show that the period is favourable for the introduction there of undertakings in which the progress of this colony is no longer contingent, and which are likely to do us good in addressing you thereon.

"The interest which all classes in this colony feel in the subject of Railway Extension, and the monetary impediment under which that extension is now being carried out, induces me to call your attention to the question whether that most important object could not be accomplished in the manner usual elsewhere—that is, by the establishment of Joint-Stock Companies for the purpose in England, by which mode the views of the Government and the people of this colony would be more economically and quickly accomplished.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"First. The guarantee to the companies customary in such cases, of 5 per cent on their outlay.

"Secondly. The location of an agricultural population along the lines, for the creation and enlargement of a permanent traffic.

"Thirdly. The grant of a sum of £100,000 towards the cost of the railway, and the payment of £100,000 (drawn on you) on the National Bank of Ireland, and made payable to you on presentation as the former ones were. This last remittance, we need hardly say, is intended by the subscribers and contributors, as we have done, to receive gratifying intelligence that you have likewise received our second remittance of £100 for the same worthy object. We now enclose for transmission by the mail, which will leave this evening, a memorandum of the (first) scheme of the fund for the sum of one hundred pounds, drawn on you, and sent to you by express.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a time like the present, when the capitalists of England are seeking legitimate outlets for investment, we believe that under the necessary conditions there would be no difficulty in effecting the arrangements referred to on the subject.

"At a

THE GRAND FINISH
OF THE SALE

DRAPERY

SKINNER'S, 404, George-street,
oppoite Telegraph Office.On account of whom it may concern.
Clearing out the remainder of the

STOCK SAVED FROM THE FIRE,

SKINNER'S, 404, George-street,
oppoite Telegraph Office.

The following BARGAINS may be had THIS DAY:-

Fine longclothes, 6d per yard

Horned-cloth, 2 yards, 6d per yard

Twill sheeting, 2 yards wide, 23d per yard

Stout sheeting, 2 yards wide, 15d per yard

Hoyle's finest cambric prints, 5d per yard

Brown hollandas, 6d, worth 12d

Linen huckaback, 6d, worth 14d

Linen hem towels, 8d, 12d

Large white counterpane, 6d each

Toilet covers, very large and fine, 1d

Large damask tablecloths, all linen, 3s 1d

Marlboro' curtains, 6d each, worth 1d

Window shades, 6d each, worth 1d

White flannel, very fine, 9d, worth 1d

Superb blankets, 7s 6d, worth 2d

Ladies' stays, very superior, 3s 1d, worth 9d

Linen white turkish muslin jackets, most beautifully tried with red and gold ladies' belts, 2s 6d

Fancy embroidered silver and gold ladies' belts, 2s 6d

Ladies' silk vests, 2s 11d, worth 6d

Feathers, 6d, 12d, 18d

Linen white turkish muslin, 6d each

Cob's cambric prints, all widths

Cambric trimmings, half price

Fancy washing trimming, 3d yards for 1s

DRESSES, DRESSKES, DRESSSES.

Silk striped cambric, 3d per yard

Striped cambric, 3d, worth 1d

Black and checked challis, 7d, worth 1d

Fancy checked and plain challis, 8d, worth 2d

Chene lusters, 9d, worth 1d

Coloured French laces, 12d, worth 2d

Black lusters, 9d, worth 1d

Black muslin, 9d, worth 1d

Black Parma cloth, 23d, worth 3d

Black hand loom shawl, 6s 1d, worth 2d

Black gingham shawl, 2s 1d, worth 5d

The above articles are now to be had at the price quoted, the object being to force them into cash,

without regard to cost or value.

Australian House,

404, George-street,

Opposite Telegraph Office.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

MEN'S CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

Men's superior tested trousers, 7s 11d per pair

Ditto West of England doekins ditto, 12s 6d

Ditto miller's drab' mohair ditto, 6s 11d, worth 9s 6d

Ditto black cloth trousers, only 12s 6d

Ditto black velvet vest, only 7s 9d

Ditto ditto alpaca coat, only 7s 6d, worth 1d

Ditto new shape felt hat, only 1d, worth 9s 6d

Superior white shirts, linen fronts, only 4s 1d

Satin unbleached cotton socks, only 6d per pair

Fancy undyed cotton socks, 3s 6d

Linen and woolen drawers, only 12s 6d, worth 9s 6d

Merino and lambwool drawers, only 3s 9d, worth 4s

Black and coloured tumb' chintz, only 6d each

Excellent crimson flannelette shirts, only 4s 1d

Fancy plain tweed shirts, only 7s 6d

The digger's cloth shirt, very light, only 9s 6d

Boys' tweed suit, 21s 6d, worth 3d

MUSLIN AND ROUSSEAU,

518, George-street, Brickfield-hill.

DO NOT FAIL TO EXAMINE

Five black alpacas, only 8d per yard

Ditto ditto colour, good quality, 10d per ditto

Ditto ditto alpaca, superior white, 1s 1d

Ditto ditto mohair ditto, 2s 1d

Patent black crapes, only 2s 6d, worth 4s

Black plaid' chintz, only 2s 1d, worth 3s 9d

Ditto superior quality, warranted to wear well, 2s 1d

Ladies' bonnets and hats clearing out at half price

Summer dresses at reduced prices

Five longclothes for family use, good, only 6d

Ditto bow'ls, 6d, worth 4d

White cambric pants, only 6d

Witney blankets, large size, 1s 6d per pair

French kid gloves, 1s 1d, 2s 6d, worth 3s

White cotton goods, good quality, only 6d

Real Welsh dannel, 1s 4d, worth 1s 6d

RUSH AND ROUSSEAU,

618, George-street, Brickfield-hill.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

W. C. R. M. N. W. I. C. K.,

(late of 273, Pitt-street).

(the Sale is unavoidably POSTPONED till WEDNESDAY, 27th March, having taken more time to re-mark at the reduced prices than was at first anticipated), having partaken of the great success of the Stock and Lease of the premises formerly occupied by Cousin and Griffiths, 86, King-street, will offer the same on

WEDNESDAY, 27th March, together with his own Stock (about £2500 worth), which has been removed from 273, Pitt-street. The Stock consists of about

6000 worth of

USEFUL, AND SEASONABLE DRAPERY,

and in order to meet heavy engagements the goods will be offered at such prices as will ensure the object in view, namely,

A SPEEDY SALE.

W. C. R. in thus announcing his removal, would thank those who have so liberally patronised him in Pitt-street, and would remind the general public that this is

G. GREENING & CO., Drapery, 86, King-street, and that the same attention and civility which have been so successfully carried out in Pitt-street, will be strictly adhered to here also.

The business will be conducted on

CASH PRINCIPLES ONLY,

to enable W. C. R. to pay cash and take the discounts, thus enabling him to buy as cheap as any other house in the trade; and as the system of

SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK RETURNS

will be carried out also, combined with the very large discount at which the Stock has been bought, W. C. R. can consider himself in a position of advantage in placing which are seldom offered.

The Sale will commence on WEDNESDAY, 27th March, and continue for ONE MONTH ONLY.

W. C. RENWICK, 86, King-street (formerly Confin and Griffiths).

C A R P E T S .

HODGSON and ALBERY call the attention of persons furnishing to their SUPERIOR SIGNS OF CARPET.

6 and 5 FRAME BRUSSELS

Patent tapestry

Rich velvet pile

CHORSEY'S SPRING PATTERNS for 1867

All-wool Kidderminster carpets

Velvet, plush, carpet, mat, &c.

Hamburg, sofa, carpet, mat, &c.

12 cases well seasoned

PATENT FLOORCLOTH

ex Soho.

HODGSON and ALBERY,

Furnishing Drapers,

361, George-street.

GENTLEMEN'S WHITE SHIRTS.—Fashionable white shirts, 6s for 4s, 2s for 1s, with fashionable wristbands, and for studs.

12, George-street, one due south of Hunter-street.

Shirts made to any pattern, or to measure

PABROT, BROTHERS, 12, Hunter-street.—Gentlemen's superior White Shirts, Silk and Crimson

Shirts and Underclothing, every description

Borde's light ventilating waterproof overcoats

Ranger's celebrated umbrellas, in all sizes.

Novelties in corsets, ties, braces, &c., ex last arrivals.

T. R. NAVAL and MILITARY TAIIOL,

Market Cloth Hall,

Practical Tailoring Establishment,

464, George-street,

OPPOSITE THE FRUIT MARKETS,

not the Haymarket.

NOT the address—

J. NAVAL and MILITARY TAIIOL,

Market Cloth Hall,

Opposite the Fruit Markets,

not the Haymarket.

The largest and most magnificent stock of WOOLENENS in the colony to select from.

Turner's Twisted TROUSERS, to measure, well shrunk,

1s 6d

Black Cloth Trouser, to measure, 2s

G. Riding PANTS, cut on an improved principle

LIVERIES, ROBES, LADIES' RIDING HABITS,

&c., &c.

The following BARGAINS may be had THIS DAY:-

Fine longclothes, 6d per yard

Horned-cloth Trouser, to measure, 2s 11d

G. Riding Pant, 2s 11d per yard

Twill sheeting, 2 yards wide, 23d per yard

Stout sheeting, 2 yards wide, 15d per yard

Hoyle's finest cambric prints, 5d per yard

Brown hollandas, 6d, worth 12d

Linen huckaback, 6d, worth 14d

Linen hem towels, 8d, 12d

Large white counterpane, 6d each

Toilet covers, very large and fine, 1d

Large damask tablecloths, all linen, 3s 1d

Marlboro' curtains, 6d each, worth 1d

Window shades, 6d each, worth 1d

Hoyle's finest cambric prints, 5d per yard

Brown hollandas, 6d, worth 12d

Linen huckaback, 6d, worth 14d

Linen hem towels, 8d, 12d

Large white counterpane, 6d each

Toilet covers, very large and fine, 1d

Large damask tablecloths, all linen, 3s 1d

Marlboro' curtains, 6d each, worth 1d

Window shades, 6d each, worth 1d

Hoyle's finest cambric prints, 5d per yard

Brown hollandas, 6d, worth 12d

Linen huckaback, 6d, worth 14d

Linen hem towels, 8d, 12d

Large white counterpane, 6d each

Toilet covers, very large and fine, 1d

